

Note on data availability

This study relies on restricted-access individual-level data from Sweden. Due to the sensitive nature of these data, they are confidential under national and international regulations, and we are therefore prohibited from posting the data online. Any researcher wishing to perform replication can submit an application for access to the data to Statistics Sweden (SCB). This application should include a research proposal, a list of variables, and how the research will be funded. SCB will review the application and determine which data that can be obtained in accordance with the research plan. Questions regarding data access should be directed to SCB directly: Statistics Sweden, Box 24300, SE-104 51 Stockholm Sweden (e-mail: mikrodata.individ@scb.se).

In addition to applying for access to the raw data through SCB, it is also possible for researchers to apply for access to the final data set used in this study (used for analysis) through the Institute for Evaluation of Labor Market and Education Policy (IFAU). While only SCB is allowed to provide access to the raw data files used in this project, IFAU is entitled to distribute the final analysis data subject to the condition that it is only used for replication (though the practical arrangements will vary depending on the researchers location and will be determined on a case-by-case basis). Questions can be directed directly to IFAU: kyrkogårdsgatan 6, Box 513, 751 20 Uppsala Sweden (e-mail: ifau@ifau.uu.se).

Program files

1. Main: Program that produces all tables and figures included in the print publication.
2. Appendix: Program that produces all tables and figures included in the online appendix.