

University of California,
Santa Barbara
Department of Economics

Disclosure Statement

Author: Lint Barrage

Title: "The Fiscal Costs of Climate Change"

January 10, 2020

To Whom It May Concern:

This document constitutes my disclosure statement as pertains to the article "The Fiscal Costs of Climate Change."

1) The financial resources I used to conduct this research came exclusively from my start-up research funds at the University of Maryland and at Brown University, respectively, and from research assistance support provided by the Gretler Fellowship program for undergraduate students at U.C. Santa Barbara.

2) I hereby declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper. I received no financial support for this particular project from outside interested parties. Neither I nor my close relatives hold positions in entities with a financial interest in the article.

Sincerely,

Lint Barrage

Assistant Professor of Economics

University of California, Santa Barbara