

Title: Artificial Intelligence in Healthcare? Evidence from online job postings

Author: Avi Goldfarb

I declare that I have no relevant or material financial interests that directly relate to the research described in this paper.

I have received grants supporting my research from multiple sources including the Sloan Foundation (ongoing), the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada (ongoing), the National Science Foundation (ongoing), Google (most recently 2009), WPP (most recently 2009), the Net Institute (most recently 2007), Plurimus Corporation (most recently 2001), and the Social Science Research Council (most recently 2000). I run a consulting company, Goldfarb Analytics Corporation, that advises organizations on digital and AI strategy. I have given lectures—sometimes paid—at technology companies and healthcare companies. I am Chief Data Scientist at the Creative Destruction Lab, a non-profit organization that helps science-based startups to scale. I also hold shares in many technology companies as part of a well-balanced investment portfolio. Full disclosure statement at www.avigoldfarb.com/disclosure.
