

The author declares that he has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in the paper “Using Aggregated Relational Data to feasibly identify network structure without network data”.

Tyler McCormick