

Disclosure Statement for Steve Cicala, “When Does Regulation Distort Costs? Lessons from Fuel Procurement in U.S. Electricity Generation: Reply”

The author declares that he has no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper. The data used in this paper were made available from the Energy Information Administration through a non-disclosure agreement. Results have been reviewed by EIA to ensure no business-confidential information is released.