

Disclosure Statement

Do State-Sponsored Retirement Plans Boost Retirement Saving?

Mingli Zhong

This research was supported by a grant from the US Social Security Administration (SSA) to the Michigan Retirement Research Center (MRRC) as part of the Retirement Research Consortium (RRC). This research was also supported by the AARP, Pew Foundation, US Social Security Administration, and Wharton's Pension Research Council/Boettner Center for financial support. The project received IRB exemptions from Boston College (Protocol 19.050.01), University of Oregon (RCS 06252018.028), and University of Pennsylvania (Project Number 080117). Since the data used in this paper are confidential, the results were reviewed by the Oregon State Treasury prior to its circulation to make sure no personal identifiable information was mentioned in the paper. The Oregon State Treasury has not influenced our analysis in any way prior to circulation. The author received $5,000 honoraria for presenting this research at the NBER Conference on Incentives and Limitations of Employment Policies on Retirement Transitions.