Disclosure Statement

I herewith declare that the research reported in the paper “The Effect of Sequentiality on Cooperation in Repeated Games” was financed through a VIDI research grant from the Netherlands Organization for Scientific Research (NWO) (project number 452-11-012). I have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in the paper.

I declare that the experiment was run with human subjects and was conducted in accordance with all national, institutional, and ethical guidelines. At the time of execution of the experiment there was no option or tradition to obtain IRB approval at her institution (Tilburg University) or country (the Netherlands).
