

Disclosure Statement

Maryse Kathleen Ngangoue

I, M. Kathleen Ngangoue, hereby declare that:

1. The research project was financed using money provided by the Center for Experimental Social Science at New York University.
2. I have no conflict of interest with regard to this research. I have been employed exclusively by New York University und University of California, Los Angeles, Anderson School of Management during the conduct of this research. Neither I nor my partner have a paid or unpaid position as an officer, director or board member of any organisation that is relevant to this research.
3. Data collection was approved by New York University's IRB.
4. For the participants in the laboratory experiments, the data protection policies are made available upon their first registration.

In the paper's "acknowledgement" footnote, we include a statement as follows: "The authors declare that they have no relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research conducted in this paper. Financial support is acknowledged by the Center for Experimental Social Science at New York University. The data collection was approved by the IRB of New York University."