Manuscript Title: Financial Spillover Effects from Electronic Government Transfers: Evidence from an At-Scale Experiment in Indonesia

- Financial support for this project came from the Australian Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade through a grant to JPAL at MIT, from the JPAL Governance Initiative, and from Development Innovation Ventures at USAID.
- The Indonesian Government provided in-kind support through providing administrative and survey data.
- The Australian Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade also provides support to the Government of Indonesia through Mahkota Program that support TNP2K (National Team for the Acceleration of Poverty Reduction). I am Chief of Policy Team of TNP2K, and receive salary support from this grant.
- I am Chief of Policy Team of TNP2K at the office of the Vice President of Indonesia and also Associate Professor in the Department of Economics, Universitas Gadjah Mada (UGM). Both TNP2K and UGM have no stake in the outcomes of any given evaluation results. However, both TNP2K and UGM do have a position on what is considered a rigorous evaluation methodology.
- This project was approved by the IRB at MIT (IRB of record): 1701819226; Harvard (ceded to MIT): IRB17-0411 SITE17-0365.
