RE: DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

Editors
American Economic Review

Dear Editors:

This is a disclosure statement for the paper “Power Flows: Transmission Lines, Allocative Efficiency, and Corporate Profits.”

This work was not supported by any funders. I received grant support in 2024 from Resources for the Future, for work on a related but separate and independent project on transmission congestion. I have also received financial support in the past three years from the Hamilton Project at the Brookings Institution and from the Sloan Foundation, for research on energy and environmental economics not directly related to this paper. I have also received financial compensation from UC Berkeley as a guest instructor, on topics in energy and environmental economics not directly related to this paper.

I have no other relevant or material financial interests that relate to the research described in this paper. No party had the right to review the paper prior to its circulation.

Sincerely,

Catherine Hausman
