Editors, American Economic Review

Dear Editors:

I declare that I have no relevant material or financial interests that relate to the research described in the paper entitled "Competition under Incomplete Contracts and the Design of Procurement Policies," submitted for possible publication to the American Economic Review.

I did not seek IRB approval for this project as it is based on previously collected data and thus falls outside of the scope of what constitutes human subjects research.

While I am an employee of the US Department of Defense, the views expressed in the paper submitted for possible publication are those of the authors and do not reflect the position of the Department of the Army or the Department of Defense. The underlying project was not in response to a Department of Defense requirement, nor did the authors receive any funding, specific support, or specialized access to data from the Department of Defense while conducting the described research.
